“The American Jewish community is one of Israel’s most significant strategic assets in the long run.”

- Avinoam Bar-Yosef, President, Jewish People Policy Institute (JPPI)

JPPI was created by Zionist Jew Stuart Eizenstat, a former Deputy Secretary of the US Treasury and US Ambassador to the EU. Stuart would like us to believe that he only started advocating for Jewish interests AFTER he finished serving as a US public official. 🤔

Here is Stuart Eizenstat dictating what Hillary Clinton's policy will be on Iran to her Senior Policy Advisor, Jake Sullivan. It should be noted that Stuart sent this email while residing in Israel and having no official ties to Clinton's campaign. Who controls the US government?

> It appears that Hillary has already spoken. I do hope in a formal statement she will say that as President, NOT just that all options are on the table, which is a hackneyed phrase, but that "As President I will do whatever it takes to assure that Iran never develops a nuclear weapon." There should also be the kind of statement I have suggested of working closely with our allies in the region, especially Israel, to counter Iranian terrorist activity, and to be certain they have the means to fully defend themselves against Iran.
